Annual meeting 2013

DAILY CHALLENGES IN DIGESTIVE ENDOSCOPY FOR ENDOSCOPISTS AND ENDOSCOPY NURSES

Thursday 19th September 2013
from 2pm till 9pm

Golden Tulip Brussels Airport

On behalf of the board of the Belgian Society of Gastrointestinal Endoscopy, we are delighted to invite you to the annual BSGIE autumn symposium in Brussels on Thursday the 19th September 2013.

Once more this symposium is organised in collaboration with the AIEVV and we hope to see even more endoscopy-nurses and endoscopists than last year. This meeting starts again at noon and will be organised in the centre of this country: the Golden Tulip Hotel in the neighbourhood of Brussels Airport, very well accessible by car and with abundant parking facilities.

In this year's edition of "Daily challenges in digestive endoscopy for endoscopists and endoscopy-nurses" stenting is the main topic during the opening session. Some non-endoscopic but very relevant topics are covered in the following session: sedation, disinfection and anticoagulation. A practical session with tips and tricks for your daily practice, closes the scientific part of the symposium.

BSGIE members are invited to attend the general assembly because new statutes will be presented for approval. A certain quota of members needs to be present to be able to do so.

This half-day symposium is closed with an endoscopy quiz for which we once more ask your collaboration. Please send us videos or pictures of special endoscopic procedures (accompanied by a short patient history) that can be used in the endoscopy quiz. You can send these to danny.delooze@ugent.be during the forthcoming holiday period.

We are looking forward to meet you all in Brussels in September!

On behalf of the BSGIE board,

Danny De Looze
President BSGIE
